DISTINGUISHING FEATURES OF THE CLASS:

This position is in the Children with Special Needs Unit of the Cayuga County Public Health Department. An employee in this class is responsible for coordinating the delivery of early intervention services. The incumbent ensures that infants and toddlers ages zero to three (0-3) with developmental delays or disabilities and their families receive services commensurate with their needs to the extent such services are available. The Early Intervention Services Coordinator provides case management services, develops Individualized Family Service Plans and serves as a single point of contact for families to obtain the services they need. This roll also coordinates these services across agency and discipline lines. Work is performed under the direction of the Coordinator of Children with Special Health Care Needs Program with considerable leeway allowed for the exercise of independent judgment in carrying out the details of the work. Supervision of others is not a responsibility of an employee in this class. Does related work as required.
